"FAVORITE SON"

Boosters Spent $43,195.
Borahites Spent
$11,269

Columbus, O., May 23.—(AP)—A Martin L. Davey-for-governor club reported to Secretary of State George S. Myers today it had $3 left after conducting the governor's successful campaign for renomination.

Daniel E. Earhart, club secretary, said receipts amounted to $4,420 and expenditures $4,917. Chief contributors were William Haass of Cincinnati, Francis W. Poulson, State Democratic chairman, Finance Director Ray Allison, Commerce Director Alfred Benesch and Frank West, head of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

The Democratic organization did not make a filing.

The Republican primary campaign committee reported it spent $49,256. It listed its expenditures at $43,195 in a fight to elect 47 "favorite son" delegates to the party's national convention and unpaid obligations of $6,161. Receipts totaled $43,205, of which $41,116 came from the State Republican Central Committee.

An accounting of the central committee listed receipts at $46,862 from which the $41,716 was allocated. The Republican national committee donated $24,721 toward the total.

Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, reported he received $105 and spent $306.

A Young-for-Governor committee reported receipts and expenditures of $71.

Gov. Martin L. Davey personally spent $99.48 to win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, his expense report filed with the Secretary of state showed today.

The only donation received, the executive said, was the use for one night of a Canton hotel room.

Attorney General John W. Bricker, unopposed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, reported he had spent $547 from donations of $875 and a Bricker-for-Governor committee used $3,309 out of $4,345 which was contributed.

The balance of the Bricker funds will be used in the fall campaign.

Of those reporting Friday, the final filing day, State Sen. Bernard J. Donovan of Toledo was low. He won renomination on the Democratic ticket by spending $25.

BLACK LEGION STILL UNSOLVED MYSTERY

16 TIGHT-LIPPED MEMBERS UNDER ARREST WON'T TALK.

Detroit, May 23.—(AP)—From tight-lipped members, police sought today to expose the secrets of the robed and hooded Black Legion which, officials charge, executed the death penalty, without trial, upon a non-member accused of wife-beating.

Most of the 16 members in custody adhered to the society's password of "secrecy always." At least one, however, talked vaguely of floggings and other sinister activities, and said that "To belong to the Legion, you have to have been a member of the Ku Klux Klan."

That information came from Urban Lipps, 32, automobile factory worker. He is one of four men said by Police Inspector John I. Navarre to have confessed that they took Charles A. Poole, 32-year-old WPA worker, to a country roadside and shot him because a relative by marriage accused him of beating his wife.

Interstate Commerce Commission Reconsiders
Former Ruling

AND BACKS UP

On Whole Plan Because of Effect on Truck
Industry

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission reconsidered today a previous decision and suspended operation of free pick up and delivery service, which a group of eastern railroads proposed to establish May 25.

The commission's ruling reversed both its original decision, allowing inauguration of the service, and a decision earlier this week declining to reconsider the proposal.

Similar service already is in effect in the south and west.

Eastern roads which proposed to inaugurate the pick up and delivery service included the Pennsylvania, Grand Trunk System, Baltimore and Ohio and Erie.

The commission's action will prevent the new service from being established pending an investigation into whether it will serve the public interest or will violate provisions of the Interstate Commerce act through detrimental effects it might have on the trucking industry.

An agreement to appropriate $526,000,000 for the navy for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was reached today at a meeting of the Senate and House Conference committees.

The appropriation, the largest in peace-time history, would provide for the construction of 12 destroyers, 6 submarines and the continuance of work on 84 warships of varying types.

Authorization for the President to order the construction of not more than two new battleships, in the event that other signatories to the 1930 London Naval treaty began building capital ships, also was included in the big money bill.

Another section provides cash for building 533 new airplanes.

A report of the conference agreement will be submitted to both chambers next week.

An increase of the navy's fighting strength from 93,500 to 100,000 and a boost in the Marine corps personnel from 16,000 to 17,000 were other provisions of the agreement.

Years of Disputes Be-

OFFICIALS SILENT

While Portsmouth's Largest Industry Is Paralyzed and Guarded
by Pickets

Portsmouth, O., May 23.—(AP)—Authority of the National Relations Board and constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Disputes act became prime issues today in a strike at Portsmouth's largest industry, a plant of the Wheeling Steel Corporation.

The plant, which has been operating near capacity for a month and employing 5,500 workers, was shutdown indefinitely.

Closing orders came after the Amalgamation Association of Iron and Steel, and Tin Workers, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, ordered its members to quit work last night.

Two hundred pickets surrounded the plant today.

A joint committee of five local lodges of the Amalgamated called the strike. No strike vote was taken and it could not be determined immediately how many workers favored the strike.

"After almost a three-year fight in which every step was taken to keep within and use legislation passed that was fair to labor, the committee decided the drastic action was the only alternative to protect the organization and the rights of its members," said a statement prepared by J. P. Harris, secretary of the joint committee.

Company officials declined comment.

Harris said the company had refused to comply with rulings of the National Labor Relations board. The company previously had contended that the Wagner Labor disputes act, under which the board was set up, was unconstitutional.

"Amalgamated members," Harris said, "have been instructed definitely."

CHARGES

Akron, O., May 23.—(AP)—Three men accused of having taken part in an attack on two non-union tire builders at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., pleaded innocent today when arraigned on assault and battery charges in municipal court. Their hearings were set for Tuesday.

They denied they were among a gang of 25 that attacked Lyle Caruthers and Russell Moats in the plant Friday morning. Caruthers and Moats were leaders of the non-strikers' group during the Goodyear strike three months ago.

"CULT" MURDER EXCITES DETROIT

"Black Legion" uniform Paraphernalia seized by police Dayton Dean

A torture cult styled the "Black Legion," said to be similar to the Ku Klux Klan, is believed to have been uncovered in Detroit as police continued their investigation into the fatal shooting of a former WPA worker. The members of the organization claim the "Black Legion" has a history dating back to the landing of the Pilgrims and inspired the founding of the Ku Klux Klan. Sixteen persons have been arrested and 34 others were to be rounded up as police pieced together the fantastic story of the killing of Charles A. Poole, 33, doomed to death by the cult because he assertedly abused his wife shortly after she had a child. Above, left, is pictured the type of uniform worn by members of the "Legion." Top right, shows Dayton Dean, a WPA worker, who police say confessed he fired the five shots that killed Poole. Below is pictured the paraphernalia seized by police in a raid on headquarters of the cult.

Florida Bookies Are Hit For $70,000 On $353.60 to $2 Shot at Narragansett, Is Tip; Lacked Time to "Lay It Off"

Miami, Fla., May 23.—(AP)—Race wire service to Miami booking establishments was "out of order" today and rumors were current in informed circles of a $70,000 "killing" here and in West Palm Beach on a single horse race.

Coupled with the "killing" story was another that one big Miami bookmaker "welshed" on $30,000 of the winning wager.

Curtailment of telephone service was not directly linked with the putting over of the long shot at Narragansett park, when Mine Boy from the Silver Stock Farm returned $353.60 for a $2 straight ticket last Thursday.

The wire service largely was halted because of police raids during which 13 telephones were seized.

Detective Chief L. O. Scarboro said he was informed a Miami syndicate of bettors laid wagers on Mine Boy with two bookies at West Palm Beach, with return of $24,000 from one and $15,000 at the other establishment.

In Miami, the syndicate reported to have insured its bets guaranteeing a bookmaker pay-off of 75, 50 and 25 to one across the board. The Miami bookie said he unsuccessfully tried to reach the client to tell him the bet was off when he could not pass it along to Narragansett in time to place the money in the mutuels.

VERDICT OF GUILTY IN BROTHERS CASE

CONVICTED OF EMBEZZLING
$13,778. WILL APPEAL CASE

Columbus, O., May 23.—(AP)—Counsel for Frank L. Brothers, convicted of embezzling $13,778 in Conservation Division funds, planned today to appeal for a new trial, with one of the grounds a court clerk's error in giving the jury two blanks for a guilty verdict but none for acquittal.

A Common Pleas jury first brought in the verdict against the former chief accountant for the Division late yesterday, reporting "Guilty as charged," and told the court of the mistake in blanks.

Judge John R. King ordered deliberations resumed with proper blanks provided and instructed the jury a conviction must include the amount embezzled.

Fifteen minutes later, an hour after receiving the case, the jury returned another verdict specifying the amount. The case verdict carries a one to ten-year prison term.

Paris, May 23.—(AP)—Leon Lum, bidding for better American and British friendship, has decided to inaugurate personally the foreign policy of France's incoming "People's Front" government, informed sources said today.

The premier-designate, Socialist leader of the Leftist bloc that comes to power in the new Chamber of Deputies next month, intends to head the French delegation to the June 16 session of the League of Nations council.

Informed sources said he would attempt to form a close Franco-British diplomatic front at the special meeting called in the Italo-Ethiopian controversy.

Yvon Delbos, Radical-Socialist deputy and minister of justice in the present coalition cabinet of Premier Albert Sarraut, was considered a likely candidate for the Quai D'Orsay post in the new ministry.

Former Premier Herriot's refusal to take over the foreign ministry was accepted generally now as final. Associates of Herriot said he was instead an official candidate for the presidency of the Chamber of Deputies.

Blum, after conferring with diplomats on France's future foreign policy, addressed an appeal to the United States in a radio address last night for better understanding between the American and French peoples.

"The task of the coming French government is to put into effect the pondered will of the majority of the French people. I submit that this French will is closely related to the will of the American people" he said.

By ROBERT F. SCHILDBACH

Frankfurt on the Main, Germany, May 23.—(AP)—Germany's great Zeppelin Hindenburg, delivering 52 passengers safely on its second voyage from the United States, beat today its own record for a commercial crossing of the Atlantic ocean.

The giant airship landed at its base at 4:12 a. m. (10:12 p. m., Friday, E. S. T.) for a flying time of 48 hours, 10 minutes from Lakehurst, N. J. Its previous record, set on the first flight from America was 49 hours, 3 minutes.

Capt. Ernst Lehmann stepped smilingly from the gondola and expressed satisfaction that the second round trip proved conclusively regular airship service could be established over the North Atlantic for passengers, freight and mails.

Later the Hindenburg will resume its projected series of summer flights between Germany and the United States.

CHIEF JUSTICE OF OHIO SUPREME COURT ADDRESSES BAR ASSOCIATION MEETING AT COUNTRY CLUB HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Judge Weygandt Appeals to Lawyers for Co-operation After Describing Complexities of Present Day Court Procedure

Nearly a hundred lawyers assembled here for a meeting of the Four-County Bar Association meeting, which was also attended by attorneys from the counties bordering Fayette county, heard Chief Justice C. V. Weygandt, of the State Supreme Court, discuss court procedure at considerable length in the principal address of the evening.

Judge Weygandt pointed out the intricacies of later day law questions with their attendant voluminous records. He declared the general public little appreciates the battle the courts have in deciding complex cases, especially those concerning utilities litigation, for which the records alone are years in the making. The lawyers themselves, he said, could help the courts and appealed for their co-operation.

Judge Weygandt concluded with a tribute to the late Judge C. A. Reid.

The dinner meeting, held at the Washington Country Club, was larger than the customary gatherings of the Four-County Association. Special invitations had been sent to Bar Associations of Greene, Madison, Pickaway and Ross counties and there were representatives from each of them here. Fayette, Warren, Clinton and Highland counties are included in the Four-County Association.

W. B. Rogers, of Wilmington, president of the Four-County Association presided at the meeting and took the role of toastmaster, following the dinner, with the bright and witty vein for which he is so well remembered when he practiced law in Washington C. H.

John L. W. Henney, publisher of the Ohio Supreme Court Reporter, spoke briefly.

Judges Barnes, Herbeck and Body, of the district Court of Appeals, were among the honor guests. They were introduced by the toastmaster and responded briefly in acknowledgement.

The gathering was liberally dotted with the judiciary including, Judge N. Craig McBride, of Hillsboro, Judge F. M. Cleverger of Wilmington, Judge Wilbur McKinzie, of Chillicothe, Judge Charles B. Dechant, of Lebanon, Judge Joseph Adkins, of Circleville, and Judge Harry M. Rankin, of the Common Pleas Court here and president of the Fayette County Bar Association.

Following the banquet and speeches the Four-County Association chose its officers for the coming year in a more or less perfunctory election. The new president is Dean E. Stanley, of Lebanon, and I. Q. Jordan, of Wilmington is the secretary. The next meeting is to be held at Hillsboro.

ITINERANT PREACHER VISITS JAIL HERE TO CONSOLE PRISONERS

EXCHANGES PERSONAL VIEWS AND ADDRESSES GROUPS

A gray-haired old gentleman, who looks to be around 65 or 70 years of age, took his stand at the Fayette County jail and preached to the prisoners individually and in a group.

The man—J. E. Nichols, of the Personal Workers League of Huntington, W. Va. has made a few visits to the inmates of the jail to exchange religious views with them.

Once, according to Sheriff W. H. Icenhower, the man stood in the doorway and talked to the prisoners. Later, on another visit, he talked with each one separately.

He is scheduled to deliver an address at the court house square, at the fountain, Saturday night and will also preach at the Fayette County Home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

FAYETTE-CO. ROAD REPAIR WORK NOW ABOUT HALF DONE

PROGRESS OF PATCHING IS DEPENDANT ON WEATHER
ENGINEER ASSERTS

About half of the county roads of Fayette county have been given treatment for the unusually heavy damage they suffered at the hands of King Winter, George A. Gregg, the county engineer, said as he made some mental calculations on the past few weeks' work.

Weather—that has been not only the destructive element but it also holds the key to rehabilitation, Gregg said explaining that "it's hard to tell just what the repair work costs because it is taken care of along with the regular routine of grading and ditch cleaning. When the repairing was first started, he added, there were only two days during the first two weeks suitable for patching the gaping holes and cracks caused by the heaving expansion action of the severe winter frost. The road surface, it was explained, "must be absolutely dry" before the tar and gravel preparation can be used with satisfactory results. Intermittent Spring rains have interrupted the work, Gregg said. He estimated it would require at least two weeks to complete the repairing even with perfect weather for the work.

Fayette county's county road system has 72 miles of "black top" roads and 225 miles of gravel roads, maps in the engineers office show.

Gregg said the "black top" suffered more severely from the devastating freezing and thawing and were more difficult and costly to repair. While the gravel roads were "heaved" by the frost and were left bumpy and soft in some places, he declared the rains "settled" them and that when they dried out they could be smoothed out comparatively easily by scraping.

Gregg declined to make even an estimate of the winter damage to the county road system.

The State Highway Department is repairing the major arteries of travel in the county because virtually all of these through roads are in the state highway system, he said. As in the case of the county roads, progress on state road repair has depended largely on the weather.

Rehabilitation of the township roads is in the hands of the trustees of the townships in which they lie. These roads are practically all of the gravel construction and require, as do the county's gravel roads, more scraping and

Official Skirmish Reaches Climax as Board of Health Sprays Oil in City Catchbasins to Destroy Larvae

The hundreds of dollars spent quick action of officials to hunt out the breeding places of the insects, which incidentally, are hatching two weeks in advance of the normal average because of the early warm weather, are expected to send the mosquito crop of 1936 down to a new low.

The first inspection made of private premises in all parts of the city is virtually completed. W. S. Gamel, of the Board of Health, began this hunt for breeding places of mosquitoes May 11.

Many rain barrels, he said, were found teeming with larvae. They were destroyed by oiling the surface of the water or emptying the vessels, he said.

A number of sections of the city, Gamel continued, showed no evidence of mosquitoes due largely to the fact that few of the pests survived the winter.

Gamel, along with a few city employees armed with sprays, set out Saturday to apply oil to the surface of water in all the catchbasins in the city.

Fifteen of these catchbasins were found to contain the larvae, or "wiggletails." One rain barrel which contains these "wiggletails," Gamel says, will produce a half million mosquitoes, a horde that can't be sneezed off.

This work, according to the health officers will cost the city around $300. Last year part of the amount was solicited from citizens.

This year many factors should, thinks Gamel, alter the situation. One is the Sewage Disposal Plant.

And still a greater reason is the fact that the bed of Paint creek, where it flows through the city, has been straightened, allowing the water to move along at a rate of speed great enough to prohibit the larvae from hatching.

These reasons, coupled with the

CLASS NIGHT HELD AT JEFFERSONVILLE

CAPACITY AUDIENCE OUT FOR VARIETY PROGRAM

Jeffersonville, May 23.—A capacity crowd filled the Township Hall here Friday night for the annual Class Night Program of the Seniors of Jeffersonville High School.

A varied musical program was given with quite a number of students participating. A double quartet made up of Freda Coe, Mary Louise Maddux, Marvene Smith, Olga Whitaker, Elwood Pickens, Kenneth Cottrill, David Davis, and Harry Fichthorn—opened the program. The four boys named also sang in the male quartet.

A trombone and trumpet duet was given by Kenneth Cottrill and Elwood Pickens and Martha Custer and Irene Creamer played a saxophone duet.

A piano solo by Freda Coe was followed by the Class Song, sung by the thirty-eight students in the Class of 1936.

The interesting class history was given by Eloise Owens, the will by Agnes Robinson, and the prophecy by Irene Creamer. Mary Louise Maddux was the Valedictorian. Elwood Pickens the master of ceremonies.

Beside these features on the entertainment list a short dramatic skit was given. The cast included Martha Custer, Georgia Belle Klever, Mildred Draper, Mary Elizabeth Palmer, Billy Baber and Kenneth Cottrill.

As the students prophecy was given, a Yellow Tea Rose, the class flower, was presented to the graduate to close the Class Night program of 1936.

FIGHT TO GET DIVIDENDS ON

Launch Last Ditch Fight to Get Surplus Distributed

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—New Dealers began a last-ditch struggle today to equip the government with a big stick to force certain corporations to distribute large sums in dividends.

Now that the Senate Finance committee has turned thumbs down on the proposal to levy stiff graduated taxes on undivided corporation income and has approved instead a comparatively lean tax of 7 per cent, administration men have concentrated on an effort to put "teeth" in existing penalties against corporations "improperly" accumulating surplus.

The present law provides that such corporations shall pay a tax of 25 per cent on the first $100,000 of net income and 35 per cent on all over $100,000. These levies are much stiffer than those on other corporations, which are taxed from 12 1/2 to 15 per cent on net income.

However, officials declare that the penalty taxes have never been easy to administer. The question of motives enters into the problem, opening up a field for long legal arguments as to whether a corporation is or is not "improperly" accumulating income.

As the Senate Finance committee gathered today, the New Dealers planned a quest for ways and means of tightening up this section of the law.

Also remaining to be settled was the question of high penalty taxes on certain corporations which, some senators contend, are used as tax avoidance devices by men who without them would pay high taxes on their personal incomes.

By forcing money out of corporations into the hands of stockholders, where it would be subject to both normal income taxes and surtaxes, the administration senators hope to increase the estimated yield of the program which has been tentatively agreed upon, in other major details, by the Senate Finance committee.

82-YEAR-OLD COUSIN OF HUMORIST DEAD

GEORGE CLEMENS WAS COUSIN OF FAMOUS MARK TWAIN

Pittsburgh, May 23.—(AP)—Geo. Clemens, 82-year-old cousin of Mark Twain, the famous humorist, was buried today.

The services were brief and attended by few. George didn't have many friends. He had lived the past 25 years aboard his houseboat, "getting acquainted" as he explained it, with the Allegheny river.

A beagle hound, "Mike," was his companion.

He told friends he sometimes wished for complete canalization of the Allegheny so, like Twain, he could "harmonize my life with the pilot's whistle of a steamboat."

W. H. S. ALUMNI REUNION PLANNED

son who also has fallen into a perpetuating position of secretary of the Alumni Association. Students, according to present plans, will address cards with return fold later the cards will have printed on them the details of the Reunion banquet as soon as the committees work them out.

Miss Bess Cleveland has been asked to choose a committee to assist her with the decorations and Mrs. Craig will name a committee to help her arrange a program.

Records show more than 450 students have been graduated from W. H. S. since the last reunion was held. This brings the total of Old Grads to more than 1,500, according to best estimates.

At the Fiftieth Anniversary Reunion, ten years ago, approximately 500 former students gathered to renew friendships and relive their school days. For that reunion they came from far and wide.

Although that reunion is being used as a gauge for plans for this Sixtieth Anniversary gathering attendance estimates vary greatly. And, this in itself is causing wrinkled brows for those who are to determine the place for the meeting and banquet.

"UNCLE TICK TOCK" PROVED A MURDERER AND IS EXECUTED

Wandering Jeweler Hailed by Children Confesses Scores of Murders

Schwerin, Germany, May 23.—(AP)—An old hobo watch repairer, hailed by children in Southern Germany as "Uncle Tick Tock," paid with his life on the chopping block today for the murder of 12 boys.

The wandering jeweler, named in court records as Adolf Seefeld, 65, confessed the killing before his decapitation and showed how he administered poison to the children.

In addition to the 12 victims for which he received 12 sentences of death and an order for emasculation, Seefeld admitted he killed "numerous others."

"Uncle Tick Tock," convicted after trial at Schwerin last February, left the bodies of his victims in the woods. Expert toxicologists who examined the bodies were unable to say whether Seefeld had poisoned or strangled the boys.

Before pronouncing the death sentences, the presiding judge declared he was convinced the itinerant watch repairer had murdered at least 30 children and caused the moral degeneration of at least 100 more.

The dairy of the benevolent appearing hobo showed a careful list of dates and places he visited.

These entries corresponded with the finding of the children's bodies. Numerous witnesses testified "Uncle Tick Tock" had been seen with the boys before they disappeared, to be found dead later in the woods.

TERMITES, SAYS CH'M FLETCHER

Tells Young Republicans They Are Undermining Nation's Foundations

New York, May 23.—(AP)—

Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican National committee, told the young Republicans today that "a band of termites is working at the foundations of our institutions while you sleep."

In a speech broadcast from the National Republican club, Fletcher asserted his party was better organized, "more militant and enthusiastic" than at any other convention period in its history.

"The Republican party only asks the youth of the country to remain true to their ideals," he said. "What finer task can you have than this of preserving our institutions and our present form of government against the insidious attacks of men who have lost their faith in America and their political enemies who are corrupting the voters with public money."

Fletcher declared that youth would shoulder "the staggering burden of taxation and debt which this administration is piling up."

"A band of termites is working at the foundations of our institutions while you sleep. The great waste of public money is helping them to hasten the day when they can take control of all phases of our daily life," he said.

IDENTITY SOUGHT OF WOMAN'S BODY

FOUND FLOATING IN BIG MIAMI RIVER AT HAMILTON

Cincinnati, May 23.—(AP)—Police of Southwestern Ohio and Northern Kentucky sought today to determine the identity of a woman whose body was found in the Great Miami river at Hamilton, north of here last night.

Dr. E. E. Cook, Butler county coroner, said there were no marks of violence on the body, which apparently had been in the water four or five days. A black purse, found on the river bank, nearby, contained street car transfers and fare tokens issued by a Covington-Cincinnati line, and a clipping from the classified ad section of a Cincinnati newspaper indicated the woman probably resided in this vicinity.

She was about 35 or 40 years old, five feet three inches in height, weighed about 135 pounds, had false teeth, brown eyes and brown hair, streaked with gray.

The Curfew

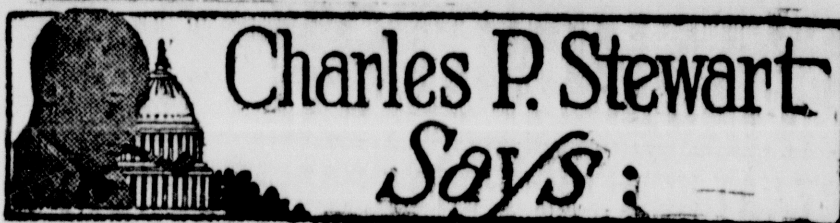

A few years ago our city council enacted a "curfew" ordinance which required, among other things, youngsters of impressionable age, to be in their homes—off the streets—by a certain designated time.
Every evening at nine o'clock the old familiar "engine house bell" tolls the curfew. There is something lonesome and eerie in the sound of that old bell. Perhaps that is because the bell no longer rings the alarm of fire as it once did and ringing now it brings up memories and recalls the past to older folks.
But what is the origin of the curfew anyway? It was a law inaugurated in England long, long ago by William the Conqueror ordering all persons in the country districts to be in their houses with all lights extinguished by eight o'clock in the winter and by sunset in the summer. It was, presumably, designed to prevent secret meetings and conspiracies directed against the king.
And from that order, intended for a wholly different purpose, has developed the present curfew, a modification of the old one of colonial times, which more nearly resembled William the Conqueror's curfew, than those of later years.

Speeding Bonuses

The government is speeding up the arrangements to pay the soldiers bonuses to veterans, entitled to them during the week beginning June fifteenth. Already more than two million of the more than three million applications received have been approved. Postmaster General Farley has made plans for special delivery of the bonds to veterans. Extra carriers have been provided and arrangements have been made by the treasury department with the post office department and the federal reserve banks to cash bonus bonds on presentation.
Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau is borrowing fifty million dollars a week building up a reserve fund to meet the demand for cash that will follow distribution of the bonus bonds.
The approval of the loans by congress has entailed tremendous work on administration officials as well as a tremendous cost to the government and, although opposed to the enactment of the law requiring advance payment of bonuses to veterans the administration officials are driving hard to meet the demands it entails and to do it promptly.
It is quite likely that the great bulk of the bonds issued will be converted into cash which will find its way, at once, into the channels of trade acting as a stimulant to business and, of course, benefitting the veterans by enabling them to make purchase of necessities or what they deem necessities.

The Lion Grows

The British government notified the world, in a plain statement by Premier Baldwin, that it would tolerate no interference by any government, in the governmental affairs of Egypt or Palestine.
While this notification was addressed to no nation in particular but to all nations in general it is in fact directed to Mussolini and Italy.
The British lion has had his tail twisted considerably during the past year and is no longer in a playful mood. He is beginning to growl a bit which is but the forerunner of a roar if the tormenting is not stopped.
Disturbances and disorders in Palestine and Egypt have been of frequent occurrence during the past few months and rumor, seemingly well founded, persists that Italian influences are at work undermining British dominion and stirring up discontent among the natives. From all of which it is quite evident that the patience of Great Britain—an example for the more temperamental peoples of some of the other nations of Europe—is well nigh exhausted.
When and if the breaking point in British patience does come it will be well for the tormentors to withdraw from the ranges over which the lion roams.

ALL SOCIAL LEGISLATION SEEN ENDANGERED

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington, May 23—The federal supreme court's outlawing of the Guffey coal act was not in itself so much of a shock to New Dealers. At least, they were expecting it.
What does perturb them is the implication in the high tribunal's ruling that no imaginable kind of social legislation of national proportions will stand the constitutional test. Not only are they alarmed for the future of such new agencies as the Social Security and Labor Relations Boards. The suggestion is heard that older setups, like the Federal Trade Board and even the Interstate Commerce commission might be put out of business if attacked on grounds similar to those upon which the Guffey law was invalidated.
The Guffey decision was not entirely satisfactory to all anti-New Dealers, either.
"Which," he assures me, "is because these countries have not such inflexibly written constitutions."
WHO DECIDES?
Senator James Couzens of Michigan raises the point:
"What is constitutional, anyway?"
"I vote for a law that I think is constitutional."
"The supreme court holds that it's UN-constitutional—but by a 6-to-3 or 5-to-4 majority."
"On my side are three or four of America's pre-eminent jurists."
"Am I to think that I am wrong with this minority agreeing with me?—and I'm not even a lawyer."

TRAIL BLAZERS

Who Made Ohio History

Third among the trailblazers in what is now Ohio was the Indian.
Of course this is speaking of the Indian collectively as a race. This is done because we do not know who the first one was nor the names of any of the earlier tribes.
After the coming of the whites, the names of many Indians became scarcely less famous than the white leaders and many of them became such progressive leaders in thought and action that they are also deserving to be classed as trailblazers. Later in this series, we hope to devote several sketches to these individuals.
However, as preliminary to the sketches of individual "trailblazers," it is quite proper, and almost necessary to clearly understand the series as a whole, to consider, as we have, the Ice Man and the Mound Builder. Now it is even more important that we have a general understanding of the Indian at the time of the white man's advent. That is, it is important that we know the names of the leading tribes and the region each inhabited.
When the whites first came to what is now Ohio the region was occupied by the Algonquians in the south and west while the north and east was held by the Iroquois or Five Nations. There were three branches of the former tribe: Ottawas, on the Maumee; Miami on the Miami; and Delaware on the Muskingum. The Five Nations were the Wyandot, Mingo, Chippewa, Tuscarawas and Seneca. The Wyandots around Sandusky and the Mingoes around Steubenville were the chief tribes.

Poetry For Today

"LOVE WITH A LANGUAGE"
Love hath a language for all years—
Fond hieroglyphs, obscure and old—
Wherein the heart reads, writ in tears,
The tale which never yet was told.
Love hath his meter too, to trace
Those bounds which never yet were given—
To measure that which mocks at space,
Is deep as death, and high as heaven.
Love hath his treasure hoards, to pay
True faith, or goodly service done—
Dear priceless nothings, which outweigh
All riches that the sun shines on.

Thousands of wreaths have been placed on George Washington's tomb at Mount Vernon.
Now the memory of his wife, Martha, will be honored with a wreath late this month when the Conference of Associated Farm Women of the World is held here.
Historians have revealed that dainty Martha, despite her lace-trimmed dresses and long, wide skirts, ran the Washington plantation very creditably while her husband shaped a new government and helped run it.
Maybe the President requested the song with mischievous intent.
He was asked, previous to a dinner in his honor, what song he would like to hear. He thought a moment, and said:
"It's 30 years since I've heard 'The Yellow Rose of Texas.' Could you have it played?"
The musicians could. But it took them three days of hunting the back shelves at New York music publishing houses before they found a copy.
Framed engravings of Andrew Jackson have been promised by the women's division of the Democratic national committee to hard-working Democrats in Washington who secure 10 subscriptions to the "Democratic Digest" by June 10.
George Biddle, of the Philadelphia Biddies, has placed himself in a sweatshop for all posterity.
He is painting the murals which will decorate the new department of justice building, and from the panel which depicts a sweatshop there peers his own dark, melancholy face painted on a figure that is running a sewing machine.
The murals also bear the likenesses of some of his friends, including Rexford Guy Tugwell, resettlement administrator.
George Henry Payne, the federal communications commissioner, started life as a Broadway prodigy. He secured a post as dramatic critic, and then proceeded to startle the theatrical world by the crude criticisms he wrote despite his noticeable youth.
The secret lay in his father who had indulged a lifelong interest in drama, and who supplied George with information about actors who had died before George was born.
Henry Fletcher, chairman of the Republican national committee, woke up one morning to find on his doorstep one of the little Donkey banks which the Democrats are using to collect funds for the campaign.

High Spots In Ohio History

From the Galbraith collection of Ohio Histories. Written for the Associated Press.
A steamer, "The New Orleans," was built at Elizabethtown, on the Ohio river near Pittsburgh, in 1811, to make a voyage to New Orleans. Constructed under the direction of Robert Fulton, it cost $50,000.
In October, "The New Orleans" left its port and started on its long voyage. At every town, large crowds gathered to give the vessel a royal welcome.
The boat was to run to New Orleans and return. The return trip was attempted, but progress was slow and finally near Baton Rouge she struck a snag which tore a great hole in her bottom and she sank and was never raised.

INVESTIGATORS SEEK FRAUD EVIDENCE

Youngstown, O., (AP)—Walter J. Ryan, chief investigator of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, said he turned files of 61 cases over to Keith Wilson and Claude Beals who are investigating fraudulent insurance claims for the State Department of Commerce.
"We have a lot more if they are ready to go into them," Ryan said.

Fishworms, or night crawlers, can distinguish any color of light except red.

Flashes of Life

PET BUTTERFLY.

Cranston, R. A.—Like the lamb that followed Mary to school, a butterfly has been fluttering after nine-year-old Robert Phillips for the last several days.

Robert caught the winged insect last Tuesday and since then it has followed him to school, fluttering about his face, lighting on his head and arms.

It even has "posed" with Robert for photographs in a classroom.

PLAN BLISSFUL MARRIAGE.

Beaver, Pa.—Robert J. Bliss, who obtained a marriage license here, is hoping for a blissful marriage. His bride, Norma Pike, is from Bliss, N. Y., and her mother also was a Bliss.

PROFESSOR ON THE GO.

Los Angeles—Miss Johanna Domes, black cat, "Professor," declared war on gophers back in 1914, when the gophers began to rumble in Europe. Today "Professor" has made her 131st catch. She is 23 years old and still going strong. Intent on her crusade.

SAD MUSIC.

Chicago—One way or the other, Alton Nolop, 83, may have to quit fiddling around his home. He and his wife face eviction. To avert it, they might have to part with a violin that has been in the family for several generations. Max Singer, attorney who came to their aid, had the instrument examined by experts. They reported it was a Stradivarius, worth possibly, $25,000.

By JACK STINNETT

NEW YORK—We've been pushed about by too many subway employees not to have a healthy respect for them. But at the top of our list is Boris Kagen, who has never so much as given the nickels a rough shove as he slides them through his cage window below the pavements at Broadway and Lafayette street.

Boris is a sculptor. We have it from him at last. He is the same Boris Kagen who, a few months ago, exhibited some 20 carvings in wood at Contemporary Arts without so much as a whisper that the rough hand of expediency has kept him in a subway change-maker's cage for nearly four years.
Kagen is a tall, bulky Russian, with a kindly, almost cherubic face. He is partially bald, which is premature and makes him look older than he is.

He was born in St. Petersburg, where his father edited a liberal magazine which satirized the opposition. When the revolution came, the senior Kagen found himself too far to the right for comfort, but the family stuck through the first years of chaos.

In 1921, Papa Kagen started a banking business in Berlin. It was caught in the gyrations of the mark a few years later, though not before young Boris had tried his hand at art and found it to his liking. But the family had to move on and this time to New York.

Here, the Kagen fortunes seemed again, when after an interlude that took young Boris to York, Pa., and a draftsman's job, he and his father opened a "batik" business. Boris designed and executed the brilliant-colored silks himself. The business prospered. There were even dealings with Broadway.

The hangings which dazzled first nighters at the premiere of the Hollywood restaurant came from the Kagen menage.

But as Boris explains it, "the style changed," and the batik business, too. Pretty soon there wasn't any. The wrestle with depression ended when Boris joined the ranks of the underground change-makers.

He doesn't mind. He finds it gives him time for his carvings and his carvings are his passion. Out of mahogany, maple, rosewood and such he has fashioned statuettes which show unmistakably traces of influence by African art, and larger-than-life heads, and mythological figures that hint of the Asiatic. His last work, however, is a sea gull in flight. The treatment is modern and the result, critics have told him superior to previous efforts.

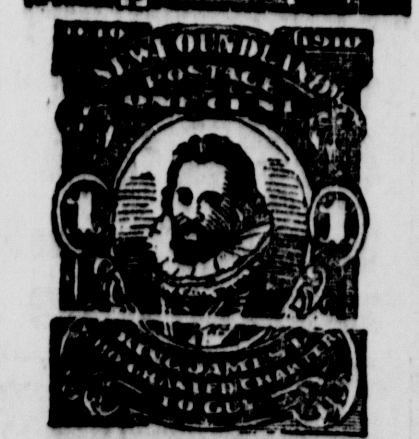

Boris gives his time to the subway company and his four-year service record attests that he has done his job well, but his thoughts are his own and when business is slack, he is mentally fashioning his figures in wood.

He admits frankly that his greatest desire is to win a Guggenheim award that will give him release from economic pressure and time to prove his contention that wood is a neglected medium.

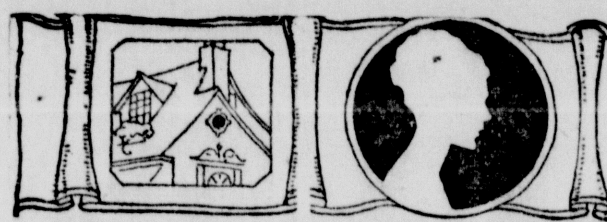

In the meantime, he will continue carving away on ideas formulated while he pushes out nickels to the pedestrian traffic that flows down from the pavements where Lafayette meets Broadway.

MORE than a hundred former graduates of the New Holland High School assembled at the high school auditorium on Friday night to enjoy the annual alumni banquet, renew friendships, and welcome the Class of '36.

The hall was beautifully decorated with the class colors, blue and white, and the unusually high class evening dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with promptness and precision.

Mr. Cranston McQuay, '15 president of the alumni association, was the toastmaster. Dr. A. D. Blackburn, superintendent of the New Holland schools, presented the senior class—Jean Mossbarger, president; Anabel Louis, vice president; Cornelius Heltrich, secretary-treasurer; Charles Ater, Mary Ellen Hulest, Everett Landman, Ellen Jean Lewis, Betty Morris, Dolores Jean Shipley, Marvada Stookey, Herbert Dennis, for membership in the alumni association.

Reverend R. M. Morris gave the invocation, Paul Lininger the address of welcome, and Jean Mossbarger the response. The Alumni News was read by Rosalind Cook.

Ten children, sons and daughters of alumni members, put on an attractive program, "Fun on the Last Day of School" with Miss Betsey Briggs the very efficient teacher and Mr. Joe E. Gooley the popular judge.

Mr. Prior Timmons offered a unique musical number, using only a violin bow and an ordinary saw, and Miss Betsey Briggs was a charming soloist.

Officers elected for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Mabel Hays; vice president, Charles Ater, secretary-treasurer, Miss Betsey Briggs.

The program was given under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Hays and the wealth of gorgeous flowers which decorated the tables was from the Buck's greenhouses.

Miss Rachel Bryant, physical education instructor in the local school, is planning a most interesting summer vacation. Miss Bryant will be a member of a party of sixty which is taking a field course in Europe sponsored by Columbia University of New York.

The tour will sail on the S. S. New York from New York harbor on June 24th and will land at Hamburg, Germany. The itinerary includes Copenhagen, Denmark, Freiburg, Heidelberg, Black Forest Region, Garmisch, Partenkirchen (scene of the winter Olympics), Munich, where they will be at the time of the Munich Music Festival, and Berlin, where they will see the Olympic Games.

The travelers will return on August 15th.

The evening's program included a piano solo by Lorie Merritt and a song by Alice Jean Merritt and Donna Toops. Scripture reading was given by Jean Easter and prayer by Lorie Merritt and Donna Toops.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Betty Toops and Maurine Henkle.

COLLEGE BEAUTY WRITING BOOK

(Miss Hortense Callahan)

It takes more than a college course to keep Miss Hortense Callahan of Rushton, La., busy. When she isn't attending classes at Louisiana Tech, where she is a senior, Miss Callahan looks up data for her proposed book on the history of Louisiana medicine. The book, describing the progress of medicine in the state from 1519 to 1936, will be completed some time this summer, Miss Callahan says.

Mrs. Asa Flowers extended the hospitality of her home Friday evening for a pot luck supper, the affair entertained by the Woman's Relief Corps in honor of two of its members, Mrs. Horatio Wilson and Mrs. Earl Cole, who are moving to the near future to Columbus.

Following a delicious supper and its attendant pleasure, Mrs. Robert Turnpseed, president of the corps, presented attractive gifts to Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Cole from the organization.

Mrs. Flowers' home was extremely pretty with a profusion of garden flowers.

SECOND NIGHT OF SENIOR H. S. PLAY CAPACITY HOUSE

DUAL ROLES GIVE OPPORTUNITY FOR UNUSUAL NUMBER OF ACTORS

A capacity house applauded the Senior Class Play, presented for the second time Friday night, at the High School auditorium.

Everything moved off smoothly, with a change of cast in double roles, which placed Suzanne Willis in the role of Mrs. Skinner, played by Janice Woodard the previous night, a guest at the Inn. Miss Willis gave an unusually good character impersonation. Her team work with her peppy and resentful young daughter, Dora Mae (Betty Cline) added spice to the show.

Margaret Reno was "on the trigger" as Marcella Jenks (a reporter) and brought the same line of amusement to the audience that Ruth Weade brought the previous night. Wilson Naylor played the part of the banker, played by Dwight Coffman Thursday night.

Both were good. Betty Cook was a dashing "Renee Lamour" from Hollywood, the role carried by Mary Kay Lunbeck Thursday.

The entire cast was well up on roles, from the appearance of the worried owner of the Inn (Gaines Crabtree) who had quite equal a difficult role to the appearance of Charles Kelley as a movie magnate, typical and excitable.

Mary Alice Thompson did a really fine piece of acting as the health faddist, and her "up and up" song and march wound up the play in laughter and applause. Madeline Baker was a news-aper volumist as pretty as she was determined.

And Karl J. Kay and orchestra added orchestral numbers to the program. Mr. Vance and Manuel Training class had in charge the stage settings, for which Craig's Co. donated furnishings.

TWIN PURSES

LATEST NOVELTY

Paris (AP)—Twin purses are the latest fashion novelty. The two bags are attached to a bracelet strap slung over the arm, one of them holding money, the other lipstick and accessories. Occasionally the purses are of different color—one black and one white.

CARD MOTIFS ON JEWELRY

Paris (AP)—Paris likes playing card motifs for jewelry and leather gadgets. The queen of diamonds and the knave of hearts pair off to ornament a black suede envelope purse and matching belt. Round or square disks printed with miniature playing cards are linked together to form brooches and bracelets.

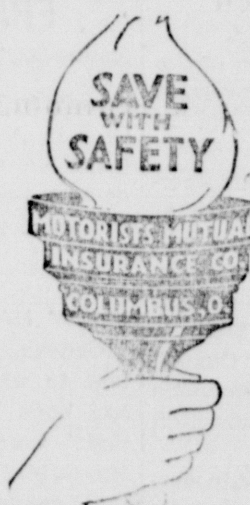

The frequency of the Aurora Borealis varies with the latitude of the place. It is comparatively rare within 45 degrees of the equator, but more frequent to the north.

ITALY HARD HIT.

Geneva, May 23.—(AP)—The extent to which Italy's export trade has been hurt by League of Nations' sanctions is shown in the March trade figures issued today by the League.

The League statement shows exports from Italy to 28 countries fell from $131,200,000, gold in March, 1935, to $6,200,000, gold, in March, 1936.

Among the 28 countries are the non-sanctionist nations of Germany, Albania, Austria and Hungary.

BLOW AT NAZIS.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, May 23.—(AP)—In an effort to halt the Nazi movement in this country, the heads of the Roman Catholic church will notify church members tomorrow that Catholics who support the movement will be banned from the sacrament.

Linz, Austria, May 23.—(AP)—Soldiers of Prince Ernst von Starheimberg's private Heimwehr (home guard) repulsed an attack on the deposed vice-chancellor's Waxenburg estate early today, killed two men and arrested seven others officially described as nazis.

Official accounts gave varying versions of the attack.

One said it was a Nazi attempt to obtain arms allegedly hidden in the castle, which is the summer home of von Starheimberg's mother. Another declaration asserted it was a Nazi plot to kill the former Austrian cabinet official.

A third account said the conspiracy was engineered by disgruntled members of von Starheimberg's private troops.

Political sources predicted a cabinet turn-over which would carry back into office Sir Samuel Hoare, former Foreign Secretary who was the first of this ministry to withdraw under fire.

In addition to filling Thomas' place at the Colonial Office, Baldwin faced a possibility of having to find a successor for Viscount Monell, First Lord of the Admiralty, who was reported anxious to retire at Whitsuntide, which falls next week.

The three-man budget tribunal continued its private study of evidence in the investigation as to whether shrewd calculations or tips from the cabinet room precipitated a rush for insurance against increased income and tea taxes before the budget was announced April 21 to the House of Commons.

The commission concluded its hearings Wednesday—the Day Thomas' resignation was presented—and was expected to publish its report to parliament next week.

Testimony was introduced that two intimate friends of Thomas, one of whom bought the cabinet member a house, made $96,500 by insuring in advance against the tax increases.

Thomas himself appeared before the tribunal twice to declare steadfastly he never disclosed any of fiscal secrets to anyone at any time.

5500 WORKERS

They are against any form of violence. They are standing on their constitutional rights to strike and conduct peaceful picketing.

He said the strike was ordered after the company refused to answer Amalgamated demands for Recognition as the sole bargaining agency for the workers, 50 percent wage increases, and breaking up of 17 department councils, which groups of workers organized two years ago with permission of the management.

The management, Harris said, told the joint committee to $0 ahead and "do what they want."

Amalgamated officials said they had received no answer from C. C. Caudill, general manager of the plant and were unable to reach him yesterday.

The demand for disbandment of the Department Councils was the prime point of the dispute. The National Labor Relations board, after a hearing in Cincinnati last November, ordered the company to "desist coercing the Amalgamated, abandon any support of the 17 councils, and reinstate one employee, William Patton."

Patton had been dismissed, the Amalgamated asserted, because he refused to join a council.

But the company refused to recognize the authority of the Labor Board, contending the Wagner Labor Relations act, which established it, was unconstitutional.

Wheeling steel officials made no further statement and took no action on the board's order.

The strike call came upon this Ohio river city suddenly but quietly. First 150 coke workers left their jobs. Department by department, others left.

When a new shift came on at 11 p. m., pickets notified the men of the strike. They turned around and went home or joined a growing crowd of cheering, good-humored men and women.

The same happened when another shift came on at midnight.

By that time the crowd had grown to 2,000. Six deputy sheriffs arrived to keep order, but their presence was almost unnecessary. There was little indication of possible violence and the crowd acted as if it were on a picnic.

Joseph K. Galtier, vice president in charge of the Amalgamated Industrial division, arrived early today from Pittsburgh and immediately called a meeting of officials of all Amalgamated lodges.

Meanwhile, 200 pickets sleepily patrolled the streets surrounding the plant in suburban New Boston.

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—Secretary Perkins today ordered R. M. Pilkington, Labor Department conciliator, to Portsmouth, Ohio, to investigate the strike of employees of The Wheeling Steel Corporation.

Pilkington was ordered to proceed from Elwood, Ind., where he has been investigating another dispute. He was expected to arrive in Portsmouth tomorrow.

The Labor Department said that after he reaches the Ohio City, he will keep secretary Perkins informed of the situation by long distance telephone.

MARKETS and FINANCIAL NEWS

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

By VICTOR EUBANK

New York, May 23.—(AP)—Buoyed by the strength of steels and specialties, stocks got another grip on recovery in today's market.

In repetition of the recent quiet dealings, many issues pushed ahead fractions to 2 or more points. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 400,000 shares.

Among the foremost gainers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, American Steel Foundries, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, Pullman, Du Pont, Douglas Aircraft, Johns-Manville, U. S. Smelting, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Westinghouse, Santa Fe, Delaware & Hudson and N. Y. Central. Greyhound was up around 5 at its best in response to the declaration of an initial dividend.

The Motors were only moderately ahead, as were most of the utilities and rails.

Wheat dropped about 2 cents a bushel at Chicago and other commodities were mixed. Bonds were fairly steady, as were the principal foreign currencies.

The long-awaited boost in steel prices, announced by the Carnegie-Illinois Corp., was seen as a straw in the recovery wind. The new rates, posted today with the opening of books for business of the third quarter, confirmed the recent forecast of Chairman Myron C. Taylor of N. S. Steel that the industry's outlook is "promising" and prices "headed upward."

In initial foreign exchange transactions the French franc was up .004 of a cent at 6.55½ cents, and Sterling ¾ of a cent firmer at $4.977½.

PRESIDENT VISITS WITH HIS MOTHER

Hyde Park, N. Y., May 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt arrived at his family home here today and found his 81-year-old mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, resting comfortably following a hip injury sustained in a fall in New York City ten days ago.

A small group of townsfolk greeted the executive as he left his special train. A little red headed boy presented him with a buddy poppy and he was off to the family estate.

The President went straight to his mother's bedside, before breakfast, and found her in a cheery mood.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

FOR W. H. S. ARRANGED

All Boys Eligible to Play in Revival of Meet at Gardner Park

MEDALS FOR WINNERS

Both Single and Double Play on Program

Reviving a custom that passed into non-existence some five years ago, Washington High School will stage a tennis tournament for the boys of its classes next Saturday. Clarence Taylor, net coach, has announced.

The tourney, the first of its kind since 1931, will be held at the Gardner Park Courts at Main Street and Circle Avenue.

Singles and doubles will be played and any boy in high school, including those on the regular tennis squad, will be eligible to enter. Taylor will have charge of the meet, the winner of which will receive his name engraved on a large cup, which will be, of course, left at the school building. As the affair is to be an annual event, the winners of each year's contest will be listed on the cup.

Medals will be given to the singles champion also, and to the members of the team coping the doubles crown.

The courts at Gardner Park—two asphalt and two clay—have been used a great deal since their completion.

The asphalt courts are at present, Hayler finds, the better of the two. "Rain," Taylor continued, "would pack the clay and those courts would be as good to play on as the others."

HEAVY HITTER WHICH HAS MARKED A. A. THIS YEAR CONSPICUOUSLY LACKING

Chicago, May 23—(AP)—American Association batsmen are up to their old fence busting tricks again.

Since the opening of the season, 208 home runs have rattled off their bats, compared to the 145 made to late in the American League and 140 in the National League.

The Milwaukee Brewers monopolize the top spot in the long-range hitting department. Chet Laabs, Brewers centerfielder, has 10 circuit smashes to his credit, while a teammate, Lindel Storti, had 11. Roy Pfleger of Minneapolis also has ten, while Brack of Louisville had nine.

In one of yesterday's games, however, there were no home runs and no triples. Columbus defeated Toledo 4-3, Allyn Stout winning his own game in the seventh with a timely two base hit that scored Eddie Morgan with the winning run. Stout, however, didn't finish.

In the ninth he was relieved by Lenson Potter with one out and men on second and third. Lou Bush then made a sensational running catch of Carson's drive to turn it into a side-retiring double play.

In a night game, Indianapolis beat Louisville 6-4, Logan holding the Colonels to eight hits.

Kansas City and St. Paul and Minneapolis and Milwaukee were rained out.

LIONS CLOSE SEASON WITH VICTORY

BLUE AND WHITE

TOPS MECHANICSBURG

With 6 to 3 Count Friday Afternoon on Champaign County Diamond

THREE HITS ALLOWED

By Forbis, of the Lions—Indians Slammed for Ten Safe Blows

By DON EASTER

GETTING their hits when they were most needed, the Blue and White clad Maurer-men of Washington High School chalked up a 6 to 3 count over the Mechanicsburg Indians Friday afternoon at the Champaign County diamond.

It was the last tilt of the regular schedule, the other encounters to be played in the state tournament next Friday and Saturday.

In Friday's tilt the Washington C. H. lads aimed to turn in a good one and did, slamming the Mechanicsburg twirler for ten good hits.

The score of the game was knotted at 3 to 3 until the fifth when the Lions marked up four stolen bases of their total of five, and then turned their heavy artillery on the Indian moundman for three hits to put the game on ice. After this neither team was able to score.

Forbis on the mound for the Blue and White was hit but three times, pitching a steady brand of ball throughout the seven innings.

During his stay he breezed down ten Indian batsmen and allowed two to reach the initial sack on wild pitches.

Michael, the opposing pitcher, fanned seven Washington C. H. batters and walked two.

Neer marked up the longest hit of the day, a triple, while Lawrence was next with a double.

Forbis, Smith, Lusher, and Hagerty, of the Lions, turned in two hits apiece during their trips to the plate.

SUICIDE VERDICT

BIG TEN TANGLES UNRAVELED

Minnesota and Wisconsin in Good Standing After Meeting—Broadcasting Problem Settled.

Columbus, O., May 23—(AP)—The University of Wisconsin had a clean bill of athletic health today. Western Conference schools were free to handle football broadcasts anyway they desired, and "restrictions" had been placed around the athletic participation of students in the University of Minnesota's "general college."

Action on each of those propositions was taken by the faculty committee of the conference last night, following an all-day meeting.

The threat of suspension of the University of Wisconsin was removed as the group accepted resolutions by the Badger faculty that it had regained control of athletics. No formal action was taken on the broadcasting controversy, the committee deciding that each member should handle radio rights as it desired.

Students in the Minnesota general college, a two-year course leading to a degree of associate in arts, were ruled out of athletic competition unless they could produce secondary school credentials which would entitle them to entrance in any college of the university as a candidate for a degree.

BLOOMINGBURG TENNIS TEAM TROUNCES BLUE LIONS AGAIN

The battling Bloomingburg racquetballers administered a 5 to 1 drubbing to the Blue Lion netters Friday afternoon at the Gardner Park courts in the second encounter of the two crews this season.

Lack of game experience seems to trouble Coach Clarence Taylor's charges but nevertheless, Bloomingburg was given a run for its money.

The only Lion victory came when Baker and Elliott, playing heads-up tennis, best Carter and Noble, of the Scarlet and Gray, 6-3, 2-6, 6-0.

The last set was the best for the locals, the Burgers being shut out in that frame.

Lynch and Bush offered the fans quite a surprise when they took even one set from the Burgers' aces, Friend and Scott. The final count was in the favor of the state champ and his teammate, however, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0.

Friend came back hard in the singles, as far as score is concerned, and topped Bush with a score of 6-4, 6-0.

Girls Play Baseball Too

W. H. S. FRESHMEN TROUNCED SENIORS FOR CROWN

The Freshmen girls' baseball team, of Washington High School, measured the Seniors 12 to 5 Friday morning at the school yard for the championship of the group.

During last week's scheduled tiffs, many unexpected up-and-downs were in the offing, the Juniors trouncing the Seniors 12 to 11, and the Frosh turning in a 11 to 9 victory over the Juniors.

After this the Ninth Year team went on to cop the title for this season.

Ruckus Breaks Out When Tigers Down Indians in Free Hitting Contest

PHILLIES BEAT GIANTS

Only 3 Games Played by Major Leaguers

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.

Among the numerous baseball feuds that are kept alive from year to year by the natural rivalry between neighboring cities, that between the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians seems to be building up major proportions.

So far this season the American leaguers haven't followed the example of the old circuit and begun tossing punches but there was plenty of warmth displayed yesterday when the world champions hammered the Indians down 13 to 10 to gain another step on the field. A brief display of peevishness by the fans and players enlivened the game in the seventh when Al Simmons and Gerry Walker started a double steal and Simmons was safe at home when catcher Bill Sullivan dropped the ball.

Manager Steve O'Neill and the other Indians gathered to protest umpire Ormsby's decision and the fans, evidently prepared for action, heaved fruit and papers on the field but the ruckus soon subsided.

The makings of another feud might have been seen in the indignities heaped upon the New York Giants by the Phillies. The National league cellar dwellers marched into the Polo Grounds, sent the converted infielder, Bucky Walters, to the hill to pitch four-hit ball and slammed out a 15 to 9 victory.

The defeat dropped the Giants a game and one half behind the league-leading Cardinals, who celebrated a one-day stand in Pittsburgh by burying the Pirates 11 to 4. The Phils failed to gain as Brooklyn rallied to take an eleven inning 4-3 decision from the Boston Bees. The only other game saw the Chicago White Sox defeat the Browns, 5 to 3 behind the knuckleball flinging of the veteran Ten Lyons.

The other clubs in both circuits were idle, and as a result Detroit was able to gain a half name on the Yankees and Red Sox, American League page setters.

The Tigers trailed 2 to 5 after Earl Averill smacked a homer with two aboard in the third. They tied the count in the fourth, however, and blasted five pitchers with a 29-hit attack, climaxed by Goose Goslin's ninth-inning circuit swat. Elden Auker, Detroit's starting pitcher, had three hits, drove in four runs and did so well at bat he was too tired to finish.

The Cards approached a National League record, hitting five doubles in the second inning—one short of the mark—and scoring six runs in that frame to present Dizzy Dean with his sixth mound triumph of the season. The Phils had an even bigger inning to open the rout of the Giants. They scored seven runs in the first as Fred Fitzsimmons, making his first start in a month, loaded the bases and then tossed a home run ball to Pinky Whitney without retiring a man. Walter aided his own cause with a homer off Dick Coffman and rookie Ernest Sulik also hit for the circuit.

Johnny Cooney was the big gun in Brooklyn's victory. His double in the eighth started the Dodgers' comeback and he singled Jimmy Bucher home with the winning run in the eleventh.

Tidbit Tales

By FRITZ HOWELL

Columbus, O., May 23—(AP)—Coach A. H. Dodds...over at Bellefontaine High School...is a disillusioned man...and mournful. Moreover...he has a grudge against the WPA.

For weeks...since his track men were able to work outdoors on the new cinder runway constructed with federal funds...by the WPA...Coach Dodds has marveled at the talent he had on hand.

High school records meant nothing to his squad of athletes...his boys eclipsed all the marks in the book.

Then Coach Dodds found out that the track...supposed to be 396 yards around...was only 365 yards.

Miss Eva Shorb...Massillon high school senior...she's the petite little blonde who created such a furor in golfing circles last year...had a new distinction today.

She's the first co-ed ever to win a varsity "M" at Massillon High. She was given the athletic prowess emblem by Leland P. Kemp, principal...at special recognition day rites.

It was in recognition of her Stark county and Akron district golf championships...and her fine showing in two national tournaments and the women's western event.

And while Miss Shorb was being shown her signal honor...Coach Paul Brown named August Morningstar, member of Massillon's unbeaten football team...as the school's outstanding athlete.

George M. Trautman...prexy of the American Association...has been bothered lately because the league games have been running beyond the two-hour mark.

He sought suggestions from Columbus sports writers on how the contests might be cut down in length...but tossed the whole batch of answers aside after reading the first.

The many old grads of Sing Sing, which defied the academicians and emphasized football when deflationary measures were more popular, are a sad lot of folks these days.

John Law, who was making great strides toward becoming a traditional "Grand Old Man" of the bars and stripes brigade, has departed and it looks as though chicanery is afoot among our institutions of remorse and regret.

Coach Law was proselytized—lured right out of Sing Sing by no other than the Woodbourne (N. Y.) state prison, and his lads are distraught, indeed.

Officially, John Law was listed as a receiving clerk at the big house on the Hudson. But actually he was professor of football. He went to Sing Sing quite voluntarily after making a name for himself as a Notre Damer of the Rockne era and after serving a spell as headman of Mantant College's Kelly green football forces.
